

Levelled Reader (Chapters 1 to 4)

Town of Makinang

Story by Basa Pilipinas

Illustrations by Rea Diwata Mendoza

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

GOVERNMENT PROPERTY. NOT FOR SALE.

Leveled Reader in English

Town of Makinang (Chapters 1-4)

Story by Basa Pilipinas

Illustrations by Rea Diwata Mendoza

Reviewed by Dr. Rosalina Villaneza (DepEd Bureau of Learning Delivery),

Dr. Paraluman Giron, and Regina Ubaña

2016 by U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID)

Produced for the Department of Education under the Basa Pilipinas Program

Basa Pilipinas is USAID/Philippines' flagship basic education project in support of the Philippine Government's early grade reading program. Implemented in close collaboration with the Department of Education (DepEd), Basa Pilipinas aims to improve the reading skills for at least one million early grade students in Filipino, English, and selected Mother Tongues. This will be achieved by improving reading instruction, reading delivery systems, and access to quality reading materials.

All rights reserved.

No part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopy, or any information storage and retrieval system without permission from the publisher.

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

GOVERNMENT PROPERTY. NOT FOR SALE.

This publication was produced with the generous support of the American people through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) under the Basa Pilipinas Project and the Department of Education.

Jinky walks to the river. It is full of junk. People cannot drink from it.

Jinky walks to the market.
Everything has a stink. Fruits are too ripe. They shrink.

Jinky walks the streets. The flood has made the ground muddy. Even the flowers are no longer pink.

Jinky sits on a plank to think.
“This is not how I remember the town of Makinang. I must do something!”

Phonics: -ink, -ank, -unk

Sort the words in your notebook by ending sound.

pink, drink, clink, chink, stink,
think, shrink, sink
hunk, junk, chunk, sunk, trunk
clank, bank, plank, tank, blank

-ink	-ank	-unk

Jinky goes to the town mayor.
She says, "I want to help. What can we do?"

The mayor says, “Thank you. Let us think of a plan. We need to clean the town of Makinang.”

Jinky sees the water tank.
“Look, sir, we can start cleaning
the water tank.”

“Yes,” the mayor replies.
“The people need clean water
to drink.”

The mayor adds, “This is big work. Let us get the whole town to help.”

Exercise: Fill in the blanks to make an interrogative sentence, a declarative sentence, and an exclamatory sentence.

1. Why are _____?
2. The water is _____.
3. I am so _____!

Jinky says, “Actions speak louder than words.” Then, she starts picking up trash. Soon, many are helping.

Jinky goes to the river.
The mayor is there. He is fishing trash. Soon, others are working.

Jinky checks the plants.
She removes the mud and junk. Soon, the gardens are looking lush.

The mayor says, “Together, we can do more.”

Then, he looks at the children.
“Can little hands help, too?”

Phonics: -ash, -ish, -ush

Sort the words in your notebook by ending sound.

trash, flash, smash, dash, polish burnish, brush, fish, wish, fresh rush, hush, crush, wash

-ash	-ish	-ush

The children have a plan.
They each write a notice
to put up in the town.

19

They flash the signs:

- Brush and wash.
- Fish out the trash.
- Turn trash to cash.

The children put them around
the town.

The mayor is happy. Jinky smiles.
The town is clean.

And the people brush and wash. They fish out the trash.
They polish and burnish.

The town of Makinang is as good as new. It is now even better than Jinky remembers it.

Grammar: Add the right punctuation marks to the following sentences:

1. What can you do
2. Pick up your trash
3. The town is dirty
4. Oh this river is so clean

Write a postcard from Jinky that tells a friend what she is doing in Makinang.

A postcard template with a large rectangular area for a drawing on the left and a vertical line separating it from the address area on the right. The address area contains five horizontal lines for writing. A small square box in the top right corner is intended for a stamp.

Design a poster that asks people to help with the clean up of Makinang.

Town of Makinang

DEPED-USAID'S BASA PILIPINAS
Leveled Reader in English

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE